
Veeam Backup and Replication For Today's Businesses

Voila Meetings, Bagatelle, Mauritius Feb. 26, 2019 - Harel Mallac Technologies in association with Axiz workgroup and in collaboration with Veeam Software, the Global leader in Backup Solutions that enable Intelligent Data Management, today presented major enhancements of the solution to its customers and the general availability for new cloud data management capabilities. This is part of the new Veeam Availability Suite 9.5 Update 4.

"As a Veeam Software Gold Partner in Mauritius and other countries of the SADC Union, Harel Mallac Technologies reinforces its strong commitment to the success and profitability of its customers and protect their most critical data. New enhancements discussed during the event includes an innovative Learning Management System that streamlines enablement and additional back-end rebates to ensure customer growth." - highlighted Abhijeeth Reetoo, Team Lead at Harel Mallac Technologies.

What's New in Veeam Backup & Replication 9.5?

Veeam Availability Platform is the most complete solution to help customers on the journey to automating data management and ensuring the availability of data.

Veeam Backup & Replication 9.5 Update 4, part of Veeam Availability Suite, delivers Availability for ALL your virtual, physical and cloud-based workloads. Through a single management console, you can manage fast, flexible and reliable backup, recovery and replication of all your applications and data to eliminate legacy backup solutions forever.

"Today's modern enterprise faces the dual challenges of not only managing and mining the data they produce and use, but also ensuring that the digital experience is always-on for both internal and external customers." – said Gerhard Gibbs, Veeam Territory Manager.

Ian Engelbrecht, Veeam Systems Engineer & Darren Naidu, Partner Manager at Veeam further added, "The Veeam backup and replication for today's businesses event has enabled business leaders to learn how Intelligent Data Management will benefit their businesses by meeting demand securely, across multi-cloud infrastructures to exceed the expectations of the mobile digital world."

This event has given the opportunity to our customers to immerse themselves in the latest technologies and strategies for Intelligent Data Management. Harel Mallac Technologies accompanies you in solving challenges, by understanding how enterprise data is changing and how new technologies and approaches can unleash its full value.
